We are pleased to announce the Egyptian Medical Research Journal (EMRJ), a new OPEN ACCESS, Internet-only journal, accessible to everyone. EMRJ is published on behalf of the Medical Research Group of Egypt and Egyptian Medical Research Collaborative (EMRA Collaborative).

EMRJ aims at publishing high-quality, cutting edge, clinical research reports that directly relate to clinical practice and aims at improving patient care. EMRJ welcomes submissions of original articles, reviews, case reports, debates, educational notes, and opinion articles from clinical researchers and physicians all over the world.

The open access option means that anyone in the world with access to the Internet can visit the website, view the journal, obtain its papers, its editorials, and comments for FREE! Further information about the journal ISSN and the list of indexing databases will be published soon.
